

Green Built™
TEXAS

Present: The Going Green Showcase

Does your company provide a green product or service to consumers?

The Home Builders Association of Greater Dallas's Green Built Texas program has partnered with International Exhibitions Inc., the producer of the Dallas Home and Garden Market to add a Going Green Showcase to the popular consumer event that will be held September 11 and 12. In this section of the show, attendees will learn practical ways to live green and save green from hands-on, do-it-yourself seminars, interactive presentations from local industry experts, and dozens of product and service exhibitors.

If your company would like to be a part of the Going Green Showcase, please provide the required information below so we can provide you with a list of available booths as well as an exhibitor contract. The Dallas Home and Garden Market typically draws as many as 15,000 attendees and the Going Green Showcase will be the centerpiece of the show's marketing efforts making your participation in the Showcase all the more valuable.

You can also fill out this form online by clicking the "Going Green Showcase" tab at GreenBuiltTexas.com.
